SAMPLE — fictional business, for portfolio demonstration only

The Valley Oak Twilight Fair, its organizer, venue ("Riverbend Commons"), vendors, performers, and ticket prices are all invented. Any resemblance to a real event is coincidental. This sample is not connected to any real Sacramento festival or venue.

4. Hero Reel Concept, "One Golden Hour" (Fri May 7, 6:00 PM)

Length: 30s · Format: 1080×1920, 30fps · Platforms: IG Reels, TikTok, FB Reels, YouTube Shorts
Idea: a "day-into-twilight" time-compressed journey through what attendees will experience, stitched from vendor workshops, band rehearsal, and site footage. All footage is real. Because the event hasn't happened yet, on-screen text clearly says "coming May 15," and we don't present this footage as last year's crowd.

Time	Visual	On-screen text	Audio
0–2s	Hand flips a hand-lettered "OPEN" sign as warm light hits	"Your May 15 plans: 👇"	Licensed indie track starts, guitar pluck
2–8s	Quick cuts: candle pour, screen-printing pull, ceramic wheel (consented makers)	"40+ local makers"	Beat-synced cuts
8–14s	Food-truck sizzle, taco fold, lemonade pour	"Food trucks till 10"	–
14–20s	Band rehearsal, drummer close-up, singer silhouette against sunset	"Live music at sunset"	Song swells
20–26s	String lights flick on, timelapse of the oak canopy at dusk	"4–10 PM · Riverbend Commons"	–
26–30s	Key-art end card with oak-leaf animation	"Free before 5 · $10 after · Tix: link in bio"	Button ending

Captions: burned-in text only (no VO). If the organizer's VO version is used, add human-corrected captions.
Music: licensed for commercial use (royalty-free library license in the organizer's name, or a track from a local band with written permission. A featured band's own song is the best option.)
Variants: a 15s cut for Stories/ads; a 6s bumper for paid boosts.
